'Thirty Ducklings' To Attend Annual Gypsy Doodle Carnival Tonight At SAC Union

Thirty fuzzy, yellow ducklings on the SAC campus are waiting to be taken to new homes this evening when the annual Gypsy Doodle Dance and Carnival ends at midnight tonight at the SAC Student Union.

The Carnival opens at 8 p.m., and the dancing begins at 9 p.m. to the music of the Harmonaires. Miss Jean Mishey, president of Las Gitanas announced that cottons will be worn by the women, and sports clothes for the men. Admission will be 40c with Associated Student cards, and 60c without.

The Gypsy Doodle Dance has been sponsored by Las Gitanas (The Gypsies) each year since the club was first organized. The Inter-Club Council is in charge of the booths. Miss Barbara Baggerly president of Las Meninas is chairman of the booth committee, assisted by Bill Reed of Los Caballeros, and Toni Osterkamp of Las Meninas.

Among the booths at the Carnival will be a ping pong throw with young ducklings as prizes sponsored by the Young Farmers; a fortune telling booth by Las Gitanas; a coke booth by the Bachelors; a penny pitch game by the Newman Club; a metal bottle and base ball game by the Don Y; and a dart game by Las Meninas.

Patrons for the dance are Mr. William Corser, Mr. and Mrs. John "Sky" Dunlap; Mr. and Mrs. Orville K. Knutsen; Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Moomaw; and Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Scott.

Baldwin Heads Varsity Club

Twenty Santa Ana College lettermen met in the College Student Union last Tuesday to organize the Varsity Club.

Tom Baldwin was elected president, Tom Noll, vice president; George Gumbrecht, secretary; and Jim Suverkrubbe, treasurer.

Baldwin said the objective of the club is to further the athletic achievements of the college. He added that plans are in progress for a Track Banquet, and an Athletic Day for games between competing campus groups.

The Varsity Club will sponsor a booth at the Gypsy Doodle Carnival this evening, involving athletic skill.

Advisers for the club are Mr. A. J. "Bill" Cook, head of the Athletic Department of SAC, Mr. Stuart K. Inman, college basketball coach, and Edward T. Eaton, physical education instructor.

SAC Fine Arts Week Celebrates 40 Years Of Community Service

Fine Arts Week at Santa Ana College, celebrating the college's 40th year of community service, will be observed next Monday through Saturday and bring participation by SAC students, faculty and hundreds of Orange County high school students.

The programs will embrace drama, art, journalism, music, photography, architecture, literature and the graphic arts. The highlight will be Open House next Friday evening.

The week opens Monday evening with a 5:30 dinner for high school drama majors, a panel on theatre practices at 6:15 p.m. and a dress rehearsal of "The Wingless Victory" by the College Players at 7:30 p.m.

Students To Meet Artists and Directors

Drama Panel members will be Lois Rees Auer, director of the Santa Ana Community Players; Rita Riggs, SAC Alumnae, former drama aide, and now assistant costumer at CBS-Television City; Sherwood and Cathy Price, producers of the Tustin Playbox; Claude Bolton, Santa Ana High School stage manager, and Bob Bradley, 1954 SAC drama graduate, now at the Pasadena Playhouse.

The Art workshop at 3 p.m. Tuesday will be conducted by Harper Goff, famed Disneyland Recreation Park designer, and former Santa Ana Art student. Goff has arranged for a large scale model of Disneyland to be on exhibition all week in the Library-Art Building. An art exhibition by SAC students, guest entries of outstanding work by Orange County High School artists; and college photography and architecture will be on display in the Library-Art building.

The Orange County English Teachers Association will meet in the Student Union Wednesday afternoon.

Journalists To Win 50 Awards

Journalism Day on Thursday opens with 11 workshops at 3:30 p.m., conducted by high school chairmen. More than 50 awards will be presented, highlighted by trophies for best newspaper by Orange County Publishers Assoc. (Continued on Page 3)

El Don Staff Travels To USC Journalism Day

El Don Editors Lorraine Elam, Walt Taylor, Carl Sawyer, Gary Butler, and journalism instructor Carl Venstrom will travel to Los Angeles this Saturday to attend the "Thirtieth Annual Newspaper Day" at the University of Southern California.

Four editors and one journalism adviser from each Junior college and high school in the Southland have been invited to be guests of the University for the day.

Also accompanying the SAC journalism staff will be John "Sky" Dunlap, assistant to the director, and four students from the journalism department of Santa Ana High School. Heading the high school journalists will be Jo Anne Brophy, managing editor of the Generator.

The group will hear a series of lectures on Saturday forenoon by both professional journalists and by professors of journalism at USC. The afternoon will be spent attending a series of panels on various phases of newspaper work.

Columns to be Delivered

Latest reports are that the 24 steel columns for the Science Building will be delivered next Monday. Mr. Clarence Fledderjohann inspector for the Santa Ana City Schools said he did not anticipate any further delay.

Allison Honer officials said the columns would be set in place, plumbed and braced before the end of the week.

WAA WILL PLAY HOST TODAY TO SOUTHLAND COLLEGES FOR VOLLEY BALL SPORTS

By Lorraine Elam

The Womens Athletic Association of SAC will play host today to 200 young women from 15 Southland Junior Colleges meeting at Long Beach City College to participate in the Southern California Junior College Volley Ball Sports Day tournament.

Miss Judy Broomell, president of the SAC Womens Athletic Association, today said that all club members have contributed time and effort to make the day a success. Miss Broomell will give the welcoming address after registration has been completed.

16 Teams Play

Miss Isabelle Rellstab, head of the Women's Athletic Department at SAC said 16 teams would compete in the Round Robin Volley Ball tournament from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. She added that one of the teams would be made up of WAA advisers from the competing colleges.

Diana Woolley and Roberta Temple of SAC designed the program covers and name tags, which were mimeographed by Volley Ball Manager Clara Lotz. Elsa Nitzsche was in charge of the correspondence. Serving of refreshments at 4 p.m. is under the direction of Miss Woolley and Miss Temple.

Afternoon Refreshments

Miss Marlys Bridgeham, WAA adviser of Long Beach City College; Long Beach Volley Ball Chairman Katherine Miles, and Long Beach WAA members Dorothy Tonkinson, Kay Nagel, Pat

St. Germain, and Joan McDonald met with the Santa Ana WAA and helped plan the day's events, and will also assist in serving refreshments.

15 Colleges Attend

WELCOME JOURNALISTS

While celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of publication of El Don on the SAC campus, the journalism department and Santa Ana College extend a cordial welcome to the visiting journalists participating in the Journalism Day, March 31.

The facilities of SAC are open to you in hopes you will profit from the experience of visiting our campus and observing how our El Don staff operates.

As your school papers are judged by a selected board, we feel the constructive criticism will improve the quality of your papers in the editions yet to be published.

As the El Don staff is continually striving to produce a better newspaper, your visit here should give you an insight to the operation of a newspaper staff.

Questions will be answered freely to help you better understand the field of journalism and give your ambition an added boost in the right direction.

All in all, we have tried to plan a well rounded program for you future journalists. We feel sure you will be well rewarded for your trek to our campus and will take back to your classrooms much helpful information.

SAC Journalism Grads Move Up To Better Jobs In Field

By Carl Sawyer

On the thirtieth anniversary of publication of El Don, it is deemed wise to list some of the many SAC graduates of journalism and tell of their present activities.

Proving again that SAC graduates succeed in their chosen fields, the journalism graduates of SAC form an impressive list.

Frank Errota, SAC graduate of '49 and San Jose grad of '51, is sports writer on the San Jose Mercury. While at SAC Errota received national recognition for his outstanding sports editing and writing.

Bob Werley, El Don managing editor of '48, is a news reporter in Arizona. Sam Strange, '49 editor of El Don, is presently managing editor of a weekly in Illinois.

Marlene Veeh, El Don feature editor in '51 is now Assistant Society Editor on the Santa Ana Register. Carmela Clark, SAC student in '52-'53, is at present the Orange County correspondent for the Long Beach Press Telegram. Prior to her working for the Long Beach daily, Carmela Clark was on the staff of the Orange Daily News and Santa Ana Register.

Dorothy Dees, former El Don editor, is now managing editor of the Tustin News. While studying at SAC, Dorothy was also editor of the Rocket Express, a Garden Grove newspaper.

Managing editor of the El Don in '53, Bill Shands is now a senior at San Jose State while working for a northern California newspaper. While at SAC, Shands secured employment on the South Coast News in Laguna Beach through the efforts of Mr. Carl Venstrom, SAC journalism instructor.

John McCoy, SAC graduate and former journalism instructor, is the new Journalism School director at USC. Charles Downie is on the editorial staff of the San Francisco Chronicle. Glover Hendricksen, former El Don editor, is editor of the Plumbing and Heating Journal in Los Angeles. Jack Pegues is an insurance public relations director in San Francisco.

Oran Asa, El Don editor in 1932, publishes three Los Angeles newspapers and is a director of the C.N.P.A. Rocky Spicer is assistant public relations director for U. S. Steel in Los Angeles. Bill Kamrath is journalism director.

TAVERN POST IN PRINTSHOP STAGE

Tavern Post, the Santa Ana College literary magazine is now in the printshop stage, it was announced today by Editor Gary Butler.

Butler said the magazine will have an exceptional cover, and a variety of literary compositions including verse, sketches, travelogues and stories from the Creative Writing classes of Miss Lota Blythe. Further word will be given later as to when Tavern Post will be ready for distribution.

tor at El Camino College. George Farquhar is co-publisher of the Huntington Beach News. Harry Harvey is city editor of the Santa Ana Register. John "Sky" Dunlap, a former editor of El Don was with the United Press, Register, and Los Angeles Times before joining the college staff.

Jane Lindemuth

Journalism Grad Studies In Scotland

Jane Lindemuth after receiving "El Don Key" for outstanding journalistic achievement when graduating from SAC in 1951, has gone still further in her chosen vocation.

Miss Lindemuth was a reporter for the Long Beach Press-Telegram while studying at SAC and served as co-editor of El Don with Dean Gautschy in '50-'51.

Transferring to Stanford University, Miss Lindemuth was named the outstanding woman of the year in journalism, upon graduating after only three semesters, with highest honors in 1954.

Awarded the State Newspapers Publishers Scholarship, Miss Lindemuth is now at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, after traveling throughout Europe, working toward her M.A. degree.

Miss Lindemuth was awarded the California State Newspaper Publishers Scholarship and has been studying for an M.A. degree at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. She is spending the 34-day Easter vacation traveling in England and Europe. After graduation in June she will board the "Queen Mary" and arrive in New York City June 22.

VISITING PUBLISHER, Charles Voigt, of the Orange Daily News, discusses the features of El Don with Carl Sawyer, El Don staff member, after speaking to the SAC Press Club recently.

Gautschy Is Sports Writer

Dean Gautschy, former El Don editor, and presently with the U.S. Army in Germany, now travels throughout Europe writing Army sport's feature stories for the Stars and Stripes.

Gautschy graduated in journalism from SAC in the spring of 1951. Under his editorship El Don was awarded top national awards from Columbia and Minnesota Universities.

After graduating from SAC, Gautschy matriculated to Pacific University at Forest Grove, Oregon, where he was named managing editor of the campus newspaper, and also was sports editor of the local county weekly.

Receiving his B.A. in June of 1953, Gautschy then enlisted in the U.S. Army and received his appointment as a news reporter.

At last report, Gautschy expects to be discharged in the early summer of this year and plans to study for his M.A. in journalism or work for an Oregon weekly.

Army Newsmen SAC Graduate

John Dowden, SAC journalism graduate of '53, is now in the U.S. Army, stationed at Kansas City, Missouri, where he is associated with army public information working under the division of "Hometown News Center."

Dowden, who visited the SAC campus recently, said, "My work on El Don was a direct preparation for my journalism work in the Army."

While at SAC, Dowden was editor, sports editor, and feature editor of El Don, was campus reporter for the Long Beach Press Telegram and reported campus sports for the Los Angeles Times.

Former SAC Editor Lands Top Job On USC Daily

El Don editor of 1953, and a transfer to USC, Bob Elsner has landed one of the top jobs on the staff of the Daily Trojan, campus newspaper at USC.

Transferring to USC in the fall of 1953, Elsner receives a salary of $1,200 per school term as business manager of the Daily Trojan.

Elsner, prior to his appointment as business manager, was feature editor and copy reader for the college daily. While at SAC, Elsner guided the El Don to the First Class honor award given for all-around general excellence by the University of Minnesota.

At SAC Elsner also was Associated Students president, president of the freshman class, publicity commissioner, Knight's president and El Don sports editor.

DEL ANO STAFF NEARING THE HOME STRETCH

It's less than two months to the deadline date of the 1955 Del Ano. The second semester staff is asking cooperation of every one on campus to meet this deadline. So far, the cooperation has been excellent, and they have been able to maintain a normal schedule.

Most of the copy has been sent to the print shop, about three-fourths of the required pictures have been taken, and about one-third of the art work has been turned in. The covers have already been manufactured. Four-fifths of the patrons have been secured.

Staff photographers Jack Hagan, Orville Brand, Jim Hunkins, and Edward Schapp expect to complete all pictures by the first week in May. All artwork will be completed by artists Hal George, Jerry Coffman, and Jack Cox by the end of April.

Club editors Katie Mobley and Darlene Longwell will have the club histories written and turned in by the first week of next month. New members of the staff, Ronald Moulton and Ben Tessada, have been aiding greatly on many of the details of the book.

Publisher Gives Press Club Talk

Mr. Charles Voigt, publisher of the Orange Daily News, provided two hours of educational entertainment at the last SAC Press Club meeting.

A veteran of many years in the journalism field, Voigt gave a first hand account of the many joys and sorrows to be found in the life of the average reporter.

Stressing the attributes a good reporter should have; attitude, ability to get along with his fellow man, and a desire to succeed, Voigt had no trouble keeping his listener's attention, as he gave colorful examples and described exciting moments in journalism.

"Today's news today, is a good motto for all reporters to live by," Voigt said. "A man must be dedicated to his job nowadays if he is to get ahead in his profession."

Having taught journalism at Washington and Lee University, Voigt pointed out the importance of a college education for a person set on making journalism his vocation.

In his daily column in the Orange Daily News, "Strictly Personal", Mr. Voigt reported on his visit to SAC as follows:

"Earlier this week we had the pleasure of meeting with the journalism class at Santa Ana College and giving a few pointers. Here is an eager group which is looking forward to entering professionally the field of journalism. We tried to say a lot of nice things about newspaper work in general."

Fine Arts Week Celebrates 40 Years

iation, best journalist by the Orange County Press Club and best yearbook by the Orange County Club of Printing House Craftsmen. The vocational panel for the more than 200 guests will comprise Frank Hall, Brea Progress publisher, Phyllis Jackson, Newport Harbor Press reporter; Glover Hendricksen, Heating and Plumbing Journal editor, Los Angeles, who was also a former editor of El Don; Mrs. Christina Beeson, Colton journalism adviser; Nelson Carnes, S. K. Smith Cover Co., Los Angeles; Charles Pyron, Fullerton high school yearbook editor and Dennis McGeahy, Orange high school newspaper co-editor.

The first anniversary dinner of the OrCo Hi Press Club, a group of prep journalists formed after last year's workshop sessions, will have as a special guest Leonard Wibberley, Irish newspaperman and novelist now living in Hermosa Beach. The mustachioed writer will relate humorous incidents in his reporting days in London, Malaya, Trinidad, New York, California, and then the Los Angeles Times. He left newspaper work last May and already has had nine books published and three more written.

250 Writers to Be at Conference
Wibberley will be one of the two principal speakers for the Author's Conference beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Library-Art Building, sharing the platform with Virgil Parth of Balboa Island, whose VIP cartoons have made him nationally famous. Wibberley will speak of his latest novel, "The Mouse That Roared", which was retitled "The Day New York Was Invaded" when serialized in the Saturday Evening Post several months ago. About 250 authors and student writers are expected, with an autographing period, sharing of experiences and social hour planned. Informal meetings are scheduled from 7 to 8 p.m., with Wibberley and Parth to be featured after 8 p.m.

Open House Features Play and Concert

The Open House next Friday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 will include campus tours, special exhibits, and conferences with college instructors by parents of prospective students and SAC students. The Faculty, Faculty Wives and students are co-sponsoring the Student Union affair.

Guests then have the option of attending the Spring Music Concert in the Union or the college play. The musical program will be presented by the Concert Choir and Double String Quartet. Displays will be exhibited by the Santa Ana Engraving Co., Lithographic Arts, Santa Ana School Printshop, S. K. Smith Yearbook Covers, and SAC publications, Del Ano, now in its 34th year; El Don, 30th year; and Tavern Post, 26th year.

Among chairmen co-ordinating programs are: Mr. Lee Ford, drama; Miss Frances Egge, art; Mr. Harold A. Moomaw, architecture; Mr. Carl E. Venstrom, Miss Carol M. Longenecker, Mr. John "Sky" Dunlap, and Mr. Richard D. Smith, journalism; Mr. Gordon R. Wheatley, Mr. John C. Campbell, and Mr. Douglas Lamont, music; Miss Dorothy Decker, Faculty; Mrs. Paul Andres and Mrs. John Dunlap, Faculty Wives; Mr. Charles Herring, Associated Students.

Week long service will be contributed by Las Doncellas and the Knights.

Journalism program-displays will be exhibited by the Santa Ana Engraving Company.

"A PRAYER FOR GUIDANCE UPON BEING IN A NEW COUNTRY" could be the title for the above scene where Oparre, the leading lady played by Barbara Lawrence, prays, while her husband Nathaniel McQuestion, the male lead played by John Linquist, looks on. The above scene is taken from the play "Wingless Victory" to be produced by the College Players in Studio A on March 29, 30, 31, and April 1 and 2. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. (El Don Photo)

'The Wingless Victory' To Open Tuesday

The Santa Ana College Players will present "The Wingless Victory" by Maxwell Anderson, in Studio A on March 29, 30, 31, April 1, 2, at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free to AS card holders and 75 cents to those without.

The play is being produced to coincide with Fine Arts Week. The play stars Barbara Lawrence as Oparre the wife of Nathaniel McQuestion played by John Linquist. Others in the cast are: Glenn Newman as The Reverend Phineas McQuestion, John Estes as Jared Mungo, Jamie Fox as Winston Urquhart, Mona Haworth as Mrs. McQuestion, Doug Walker as Ruel McQuestion, Betty Jones as Venture, Paula Papp as Faith Ingalls, Ray Gera as Happy Penny, Mary Ann Lynch as Letty, Mary Hunter as Toala, Carolyn Kelly as Durian, Hal George as a Bailiiff, Bryce McKeown as a Sailor and Rosalind Lindsey as a Girl.

Carolyn Kelly is the attractive five-year-old niece of Barbara Lawrence and shows great promise according to Mr. Lee Ford, director of the play.

"Wingless Victory" opened November 1936 on Broadway. It was written especially for Katherine Cornell. The story is based on the Greek tragedy "Medea" by Euripides. Medea is deserted by her lover Jason, for another woman and in revenge she sends her rival a poisoned robe and kills her two children by Jason.

Southland J.C. Student Leaders Meet At E. L.A.

The Southern California Junior College Student Government Association representing 30 junior colleges in the Southland met at East Los Angeles Junior College last Saturday.

The purpose of the conference was the meeting of the executive boards of the participating junior colleges in order to discuss mutual problems. After the General Assembly at 9:30 a.m. the delegates went to various workshops which were divided into specific categories. These groups talked over their problems and presented their decisions in the form of resolutions to the General Session in the afternoon.

Among the resolutions adopted was one recommending junior college administrations set aside a minimum of two hours a week for the scheduling of student activities, i.e. assemblies and club meetings.

TABLES ORDERED

Two new tables have been ordered for the Snack Bar, it was announced today by Robert Warner, Associated Students business manager.

Miller Reports On Conference

Miss Agness Todd Miller, dean of women at SAC said the highlight of the recent conference of California Women Deans and Vice Principals in Santa Barbara was an address on the "Tyranny of the Group" by Dr. Evelyn Hooker, research associate in psychology at UCLA.

Commenting on the address, Miss Miller said that Dr. Hooker believes a solution to the problem of the tyrannizing of individual opinion by groups is not to de-group American life as some authorities advocate. Dr. Hooker feels that groups are not of necessity tyrannical, and that if properly used can release individual potential. Dr. Hooker said that the group is important as a means to an end, and its true value is in the development of the individual who is a part of it.

Miss Miller reported that the audience of over 250 deans and vice principals indicated their enthusiastic reception of the speech by prolonged applause.

Two speakers at the conference who have recently published books were Mrs. Edith Warner Dendel, who wrote "Seven Days to Lomaland" and Richard Armour whose most recent book is "Light Armour."

Miss Miller attended workshops on Legislation Affecting Junior Colleges; Labor Laws as They Affect College Women; and The Role of the Adviser in Student Groups.

HOMEMAKING CLASS MEETING ON MON. AND WED. NIGHTS

"There is still room for students interested in dressmaking, tailoring, and wardrobe planning", announced Stuart Carrier, director of the evening division, today.

The homemaking class meets every Monday and Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in room 107 at the Santa Ana High School. "Students, however, must register for the course at the evening division offices in building U on the campus", stressed Carrier.

Instructor for the course is Mrs. Stanley Stanfield.

Lirette Gives Keynote Address To Eagle Scouts

Twenty Eagle Scouts who have completed their training in boy scouting were guests at a dinner given last week in the SAC Student Union. Theme of the Dinner was "You're Just Beginning Instead of Ending."

Royal C. Marten, head counselor of SAC, who has had many years of Scouting on all levels, was chairman. A keynote address entitled "Opportunity in Your Own Backyard" was given by Mr. Henri J. Lirette, instructor of Life Science at SAC.

Following the talk, Mrs. Hettie Dyhrenfurth of Orange presented photographic slides on her expedition to the Himalayas. Mrs. Dyhrenfurth, internationally known mountain climber, holds the womens' world mountain climbing record.

Mental Patients At Norwalk To Be Studied

Next Monday, students in Instructor William R. Corser's psychology and sociology classes will go on a field trip to the Metropolitan State Hospital at Norwalk.

Hospital patients with mental disorders will be studied by the students in a special clinical session during which a psychiatrist at the hospital will give the case histories of each patient, and the treatment being given in each case.

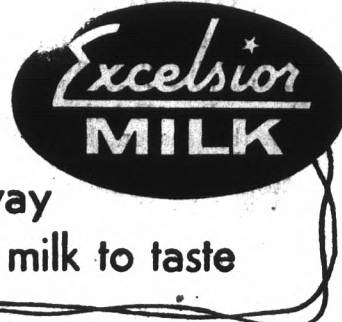

A trip to Pacific Coast Colony, a hospital for organically defective cases is being planned for April 28.

Diamond Crew Winless In Last Five Contests; Poets Take Two Chaffey And Mt. SAC One Each

By Louis Barreto

Harbor capitalized on six Don errors for six runs, but the two teams played to a 7-7 tie as darkness discontinued the game at Harbor.

With Harbor ahead 6-4, Lloyd Foster belted a three-run homer, putting the Dons ahead 7-6 in the final frame.

But the Hawks, in their half of the inning, put the contest into a deep freeze when DiMaggio scored from third on Ortega's grounder. The umpires decided to call it a game after Al Banks finally retired the side.

Poets Tally 17 Times

Whittier Frosh had a field day against the Don ball players, romping to a 17-3 victory at Memorial Park.

Poet hurler Sonke was pitching no-hit ball, and a shutout, until the last inning with two out. But Lloyd Foster lined a single to left field, Melgosa walked, and Bill Stone connected for a three-run homer with two strikes against him.

Whittier batsmen scored six of their runs with five hits off starting pitcher Al Banks in the third, then tallied eight more off relief hurler Jim Steffen in the fourth.

Poets Take Another

Whittier Frosh made it two in a row over the Don nine as Ron Shaffer pitched his teammates to a 6-5 win on the Whittier diamond.

In the climactic fourth inning the deciding run was scored when Westland's double scored Clevenger from third base.

Highlight of the game came in the bottom of the third when the Poet's Tom Baker smacked a three-run homer to increase Whittier's lead 5-3.

SAC had their final chance for a come-back in the sixth frame. With Whittier ahead 6-3, the Dons tallied two runs, but Shaffer prevented the tying run from crossing the plate.

League Opener Dropped

The Dons dropped a 6-4 decision to Chaffey in the first conference tilt, although Cook's club piled up ten hits on the Chaffey ball field.

Outstanding hitters for the Dons were Lloyd Foster and Ron Borghetti with three safeties apiece. Wade Davis must also be counted in. He belted a 380 foot homer in the second frame to account for the Don's first run.

Chaffey gained a three run lead off losing hurler Al Banks in the first inning when Goodwin singled home Vasquez and Dougherty. Goodwin was able to make the complete tour around the sacks before the side was retired. Two more Panther runs were tallied in the third inning, and the final one came across in the fifth.

Behind 6-2, the Dons rallied for two runs in the eighth on singles by Borghetti and Banks, but winning pitcher Vasquez put a screeching halt to the SAC attack at this point.

Mt. S.A.C. Socks Dons

Mt. S.A.C.'s three-run rally in the fourth frame paved the way for a victory by a score of 5-3, and the second Conference loss for Coach Bill Cook's team at Memorial Park.

Tom Wells opened the fourth inning by socking Bank's, losing hurler, fast ball past the center fielder Grizzelle for a home-run with none aboard. Two more runs, unearned, were scored as Sullivan and Munoz tallied.

Don batsmen clicked for one run in the third, fourth, and sixth innings but winning pitcher Munoz went on to control the Dons in the final frame.

Spring Sports Call El Don Journalists

Journalism instructor Carl Venstrom is not quite sure whether he is breeding journalists or athletes. A huge chunk of his El Don staff are active participants in one or another of the spring sports now in progress.

Golf or WAA anyone?

CAPTAIN BILL REED of the Don's net squad. Ranked 14th in Southern California amateur circles, Reed will be banked on heavily by Coach Maurice Gerard.

Don Net Men Undefeated In E.C. Competition

Showing their fight after a disappointing 8-1 practice rout by Long Beach State, the Don's determined tennis team edged last year's Eastern Conference champs Mt. SAC 5-4 in their first conference match of the season.

Then they rolled over Riverside with a perfect 9-0 in their second conference match, took Compton 5-3 in practice, and dumped Orange Coast 7-2 here on the Santa Ana courts last Tuesday.

Team captain Bill Reed played Norman Buck of Compton an exciting match before going down 5-7, 1-6. Reed, Buck, and Gordon Dais of Santa Monica are three of the Southland's most promising junior players.

Next on Coach Maury Gerard's list is a match with San Diego State. The next Eastern Conference match will be with Chaffey here on April 19.

A summary of the Orange Coast match is as follows, with the Dons listed first: Reed def. Armstrong 6-0, 6-0; Bader def. Tyler 6-4, 6-0; Lamb def. Biscailuz 6-2, 7-5; Finster def. Kennedy 6-0, 6-0; Lovett defaulted to Evans; and Butler def. Shelden 6-1, 6-4.

In doubles Reed-Lamb def. Armstrong-Kennedy 6-3, 6-3; Bader-Finster def. Eans-Tyler 6-0, 6-0; and Butler-Couchman lost to Sheldon-Biscailuz 6-0, 5-7, 6-4.

Santa Ana's second man, Bill Mounce, is temporarily out with a pulled ankle, but is expected to be back in shape before the next conference match.

WAA Volleyballers Split with Mt. SAC; Drop Two To Coast

In four volleyball skirmishes with the Mt. S.A.C. coeds on the SAC courts, Miss Rellstab's first and second team gained an even split. A week later, however, they dropped two in a row to the Orange Coast gals.

Playing 15 minute halves, the Dons first team topped the Mt. S.A.C. first team 37-23, and the second team dropped a 31-18 decision to their number two squad. Then, switching the competition, the Mt. S.A.C. first team topped the SAC second team 36-30, but Miss Rellstab's first team evened the match by downing the Mt. S.A.C. second team 26-22.

At Orange Coast the SAC gals ran into trouble, getting whipped twice, 50-21 and 39-17.

Gerard Priming Golf Team For First Meet

A trio of long-driving Dons will form the nucleus of Coach Maurice Gerard's golf team this season. Veteran Ray Echols will be back again this season, backed up by Herb Huelskamp and Don Meyer. Other candidates include Bob Quigley, John Estes, and Don Banks.

The first conference match will be played next Friday, April 1, at Santa Ana Country Club. San Bernardino will provide the competition.

Mounties Overpower Trackmen By 3 Points To Steal Crown; Orange Coast Opponent Today

Do miracles still happen? That's what it'll take for the Dons to pull the Eastern Conference Track Championship out of the fire now.

Three points will probably spell the difference between champs and runners-up in the race this season, although the season has barely begun. When Mt. San Antonio walked off the track after edging the Dons 67-64, they virtually assured themselves of adding another trophy to their already bulging showcase.

Coach John Ward's tracksters captured five firsts and tied for two other firsts in the fifteen events for the bulk of their 64 points. Tom Noll ran the 440 in 52.5 on the damp Mountie track; Tom Frazier completed a Two Mile Run in 10:27.5; Larry Holcombe shoved the Shot 43' 10"; Ron Adel tossed the Discus 131' 1"; and Parker Damon gave the Javelin a 175' 3 1/2" heave. These firsts accounted for 25 of the SAC points.

Bill Swisshelm tied Jim Kelley in the 220 Yard Dash at 21.5, and Roy Gray tied Hollingsworth in the High Jump at 5' 10" for 8 more points for the Dons. Jim Giyer captured seconds in the Mile, the Two Mile, and 880 to add 9 more to the SAC score. That boy did some running!

Seconds in the 100 Yard Dash by Swisshelm, the 120 High Hurdles by Jon Winter, the 220 Low Hurdles by Winter, the Shot Put by Adel, the Broad Jump by Charlie Neal, and a tie for second in the Pole Vault by Damon was good for 17 more markers.

In the two conference scraps thus far, Jim Giyer leads the Don point-makers with a total of 19. Parker Damon is pushing him hard however, with 18. Bill Swisshelm and Ron Adel with 17 and 16 respectively aren't far behind either.

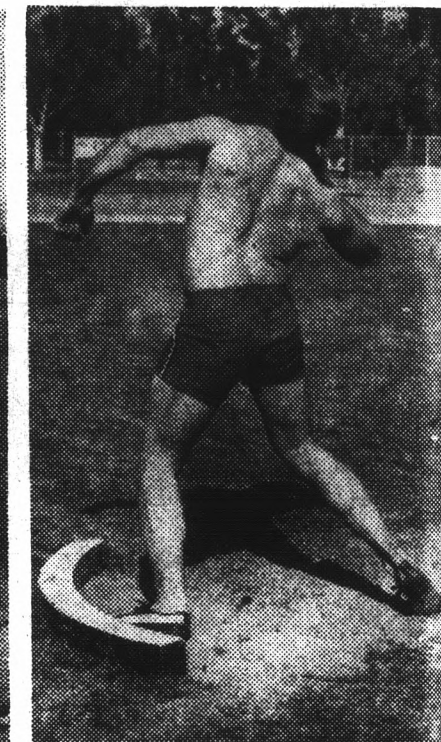

Ward's endermen will get a chance to test the Orange Coast track this afternoon when they meet the Pirates in their third conference duel meet of the season.

On the following Friday, April 1, the Dons will open their home schedule, meeting the San Bernardino Indians. Wins over both the Pirates and the Indians should be relatively easy accomplishments for the Wardmen.

The Dons will get another crack at the Mounties during the EC Preliminaries April 27 and the EC Finals April 30 on the Orange Coast track.
